Hello Guest, Here is Your March, 2010 E-news Report From Fortress Stabilization Systems

Fortress Stabilization Systems teams with Panexus Corporation in Haiti for seismic evaluation and design.

A group of consulting experts in seismic rehabilitation, insurance adjusters and engineers toured Port-au-Prince.

Structural damage to Haiti building Closer view of damage

The group is planning a multi-stage approach to rehabilitating salvageable structures with seismic upgrades as well as fitting new structures with reinforcement materials to help minimize future damage. You can learn more about this initiative at Panexus.Com

Fortress Stabilization has teamed with several universities in their ACI-CMPBS-USGBC Student Pervious Concrete Competition

Currently students are working on Concrete Canoes, but several other projects are planned for the competition.

The Fortress Carbon Net makes the building of light weight concrete a winning proposition. With a weight of less than one pound the Fortress Carbon Netting will achieve 24,000 in tensile per sq ft.
